PRESIDENT KILLS FARM RELIEF BILL

"Unconstitutional" Coolidge Says In Returning Bill

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill today for the second time.

Ignoring the advice of the farm bloc in congress and disregarding the threats of a grain belt revolt against the administration in the forthcoming election, Mr. Coolidge sent the bill back to congress without his signature and accompanied by a message explaining his reasons for his disapproval.

Although the bill was modified considerably from that which the President vetoed a year ago it still contained the "equalization fee" which agrarian leaders characterized as the heart of the plan and to which Mr. Coolidge was unyielding in his disapproval.

In his message accompanying the bill, Mr. Coolidge at the outset declared it "unconstitutional" and then proceeded to outline his reasons for disapproving of the plan.

MOST OF DELEGATES HAVE BEEN PICKED; REST UNIMPORTANT

Hoover Lacks Only 20 Votes; Smith Needs 122 More

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The delegates that will comprise the Republican and Democratic national conventions have to a large extent been selected.

Two states, Texas and South Dakota, acted yesterday. South Dakota will send a Smith delegation to Houston, and a Lowden delegation to Kansas City. The Texas situation is somewhat muddled by controversy and internecine strife. Two Republican delegations will go to Kansas City and engage in a contest, one instructed for Hoover, the other un-instructed. The forty Democratic delegates from Texas are listed in the doubtful column.

This leaves but two states, Florida and West Virginia, yet to choose their Republican delegates. Florida is beset with Republican factional rivalries, and West Virginia holds her primary on May 29. Slower to act, the Democrats of six states, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, are still to select their delegations. With the exception of West Virginia, this Democratic territory is largely unfavorable to Gov. Al Smith.

Results in the states that are yet to act will not materially affect the existing lineup in either the Republican or Democratic races. The West Virginia primary on May 29 will be important more than the normal effect than from the mathematical. Smith or Reed will get the sixteen Democratic delegates, and either Hoover or Senator Goff, the favorite son, the nineteen delegates. In any event, the result is not expected to make or break any candidacy.

Gov. Al Smith's delegate total as of today is figured in the most reliable tables in Washington at approximately 612, or 122 short of the necessary two-thirds. His supporters claim enough reserve strength among the favorite son delegates to nominate him on the second or third ballots, and even the "last ditchers" against the New York governor are disposed to admit the correctness of the claim.

On the Republican side, the tables compiled here give Hoover as of today a delegate total of approximately 508, included in which is the full Pennsylvania delegation of seventy-nine, but none at all from New York. If these figures can be made to stand up, they mean that the cabinet candidate will go to Kansas City with but two score votes standing between him and the nomination.

There is, however, considerable controversy over these Hoover figures, the Lowden people in particular insisting that Hoover has been too generous in his claiming. They are not yet disposed to admit that he will get all of Pennsylvania's seventy-nine votes, even though Secretary of the Treasury Mellon did say that of the available candidates Hoover appealed most to him.

Rogers Chooses To Run

Gum-Chewing Humorist Seeks Presidency On Bunkless Plank.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist, has chosen to run for the presidency. He will make the race as the candidate of a "bunkless" party, it was announced today.

If elected, he would be the first president in sixty-two years who was a funny man. Rogers, who is a native Texan, is a humorist, a writer, a speaker, and a man of letters. He is a native Texan, a humorist, a writer, a speaker, and a man of letters. He is a native Texan, a humorist, a writer, a speaker, and a man of letters.

Rogers' friends point with pride to the fact that he is a veteran of thirteen campaigns with the Ziegfeld Follies, which is something that can't be said for other candidates.

They view with alarm the rising cost of government and assert that, if elected, the genial Rogers will save the country money. For one thing he declines to have a running mate on the theory that the office of vice president is an expensive superfluity, whatever that is.

"Fifteen thousand berries is not to be scoffed at, even by the United States government," fourteen well-known Americans, including Henry Ford, Nicholas Murray Butler, General William Mitchell, Judge Ben R. Lindsey, and William Allen White, are acting as backers and endorsers of Rogers' candidacy, according to Life, the humorous weekly which today announced the tossing of Will's sombrero into the political arena. Will himself, it was stated, will make a formal speech of acceptance next week.

FORMER ANTIOCH STUDENT TO WED MILLIONAIRE YALE MAN

Margaret Lindsay Sutherland, youngest daughter of former Senator and Mrs. Howard Sutherland of West Virginia and former student at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, is to wed Wallis Bleeker Dunckel, millionaire Yale graduate and New York financier.

Miss Sutherland worked as a reporter and in a jam factory while attending Antioch as part of the co-operative educational plan. Her sister married "Bucky" Harris, manager of the Washington American League baseball team. Mr. Dunckel's ancestors were identified with the commercial and political development of Canada.

POWERFUL DRIVE IN HOUSE TO PASS BOULDER CANYON BILL

Routine Business Sidetracked To Permit Debate; Much Support Is Given Measure In Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A powerful drive to write the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill into law forged ahead steadily in the house today while backers of the measure waged a stubborn fight against a threatened filibuster in the house.

Routine business was set aside by house leaders to permit debate on the bill which is expected to bring it near a final vote tomorrow.

The opening rounds of the house drive disclosed little opposition to the measure aside from representatives of Arizona and Utah while powerful support was pledged by eastern and southern members. Fear of an "under cover" campaign, however, caused sponsors of the bill to redouble their efforts to overcome all doubts as to the necessity of the legislation.

Senator Johnson (R) of California continued to hammer away in the senate in an effort to break the threatened filibuster of Senator Ashurst (D) of Arizona and win a promise for a vote on the measure this week.

"I am going to keep the bill before the senate just as long as and as much as is humanly possible in order to get a vote," said Senator Johnson. "I certainly hope to see the bill enacted at this session."

WEST VIRGINIA MINE EXPLOSION KILLS 13

Blast At Kentucky Shaft Claims Seven—Majority Of 75 Miners Trapped In Workings Escape—Some Still Missing.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., May 23.—Thirteen bodies have been recovered and four other men are missing in an explosion that wrecked the No. 1 mine of the Yukon Pocahontas Coal Company at Yukon, McDowell County, last night, according to messages received today.

Rescue crews were penetrating the deeper recesses of the mine in an effort to locate the missing.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., May 23.—Seven men were killed and one miner missing in a dust explosion that wrecked the No. 30 mine of the Black Mountain Coal Corporation at Kenvir, Ky., according to a telephone report received here from the company offices today.

Three of the five bodies have been identified as: Asher Hall, Charles Bradley and Sam Edwards.

FEWER BIRTHS

BERLIN, May 23.—Germany, which formerly had one of the highest birth rates in the world, has gone in for birth control, according to statistics compiled today. Whereas more couples in Berlin marry than ever before, it is claimed the population of the city would die out if it did not recruit itself from the country districts.

The figures for 1927 in Berlin are:
Births—44,433.
Deaths—50,479.
The Berlin marriage rate increased from 9.44 per thousand to 9.80 in 1927 whereas the birth rate dropped from 19.3 to 10.63.

APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT HINGES UPON VALIDITY OF JUROR

Alleged Embezzler Says Talisman Has Served Jail Term

COLUMBUS, O., May 23.—The Ohio Supreme Court today announced its decision to hear the appeal of counsel on behalf of George K. Browning, Zanesville, seeking reversal of the judgment of the Muskingum County courts which found him guilty of embezzling funds of the Standard Securities Company, of which he was president. Browning was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in Ohio Penitentiary.

Counsel for Browning claimed the indictment returned against him by the Muskingum County grand jury was invalid. Thirteen counts were contained in the indictment, alleging a total embezzlement of $14,264.42. Browning was convicted after trial on one count.

The claim of invalidity was based upon the contention that James Simpson, colored, illegally served as a member of the grand jury. Counsel for Browning argued that Simpson pleaded guilty, in Pennsylvania about eight years ago, to a charge of assault and was sentenced to serve two years and three months in a prison of that state. Declaring that Ohio laws prohibit a person who has been sentenced to prison from serving on a grand jury unless he, or she has first received a general pardon, Browning's attorneys claimed Simpson never was given a general pardon.

The huge sum for expenses of the investigation was appropriated late yesterday by the county board without a single dissenting vote. The resolution, was passed by the board, read in part:

"Upon the petition of the Chicago Bar Association, the chief justice of the criminal court has directed that a special grand jury be impaneled for the purpose of investigating into election frauds, murders and terrorisms in Cook County."

RUMOR MERGER OF RUBBER COMPANIES

AKRON, O., May 23.—Reports that a consolidation of several Akron rubber companies was being negotiated were revived in local financial circles today when it was learned that a conference of rubber company representatives and officials of a Chicago trust company had taken place here Tuesday.

Yoder said: "It is impossible for an official to give efficient enforcement to a law with which he is out of sympathy."

Mrs. Mendenhall said Henry Ford and General Motors would have to go out of business if the saloon were brought back "because automobiles would become such a menace."

W. C. T. U. ATTACKS CLEVELAND POLICE CHIEF

CLEVELAND, May 23.—Following closely upon the heels of declaration by Police Chief Jacob Graul that he favored not only return of light wines and beers, but of whiskey as well, leaders of the Women's Christian Temperance Union today had gone on record charging that Cleveland police have not been enforcing liquor laws.

HOUSE EXPECTED TO ADOPT RESOLUTION TO EXTEND SESSION

Leaders Propose To Halt Adjournment Until May 29.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—In the face of senate filibusters against the Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals bills and a top-heavy legislative calendar, administration leaders today tentatively postponed the date for adjourning congress from next Saturday night to Tuesday May 29.

A resolution, fixing this date, was expected to be adopted by the house today and sent to the senate. Administration leaders said the house was certain to agree upon this date while they predicted senate concurrence even over the opposition of friends of the Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals bills.

Opponents of the two great government projects were reported to have united their forces in an effort to kill both bills. The Muscle Shoals measure, on which house and senate conference in a vote agreed after it passed the two branches in slightly different form, had the better chance of final enactment. The Boulder Dam bill appeared doomed to defeat in this session, because of the longer legislative journey facing it. After passing the house and senate, it will have to go through the same legislative mill a second time after differences have been adjusted in conference. This process probably would require two to three weeks in the face of the present opposition.

As a result, administration leaders were ready to give supporters of the two measures a week in which to fight the filibustering tactics of the opposition. It was the opinion of the leaders that if filibusters blocked both bills for a week, neither could be enacted in this session even if congress remained here another ten days or until June 9, the Saturday preceding the Kansas City Republican convention.

Any hope of an all-summer session was abandoned following enactment of the flood control bill, the only measure which commanded fighting majorities in both house and senate.

The first move to iron out differences between the house and senate on the new tax reduction bill was taken today. The house enacted a $289,000,000 reduction while the senate limited the slash to $204,000,000. House leaders have announced there would be little trouble in reaching an agreement, indicating that most of the senate rates will be accepted.

Congressional leaders, meanwhile, were waiting for President Coolidge to act on a large number of bills, topped by the McNary-Haugen measure. All reports from the White House have predicted a veto for the farm bill and there seemed little likelihood that any effort will be made in congress to pass it over his veto. Farm bloc leaders appeared to favor carrying their fight into the national conventions in June rather than to run the risk of having congress reject the bill in a test of power with the president.

ROSARIO, Argentina, May 23.—One person was killed and several injured in a strike riot here yesterday. The dock workers strike was settled.

FAMOUS FLYER MADE OFFICIAL OF CROSS COUNTRY SERVICE

Planes Linked With Trains In Huge Corporation

NEW YORK, May 23.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh gave new and practical impetus to the development of aviation in the United States by accepting a position as technical head of the newly-formed Trans-Continental Air Transport, Inc., a $5,000,000 corporation which will establish a coast-to-coast train and plane service, cutting the traveling time from New York to Los Angeles to forty-eight hours, or exactly in half.

Lindbergh's title is "chairman of the technical committee." His salary has not been announced, although it is said to be extremely liberal. It is believed, too, that he has been given a generous block of stock. He will devote all his time to the job.

All matters concerning choice of equipment, field general service flying routes and safety appliances will come under the authority of the committee of which Lindbergh is the head.

The railroads identified with "Lindbergh's" new company are the Pennsylvania and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe. The two airplane companies involved are the Curtiss Company and the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

Airplane stocks in Wall Street soared this morning on the news that Lindbergh had entered the business field. Curtiss Aero jumped ten points in early trading on the exchange of 130 and Wright Aero also made a ten point advance to 178.

Lindbergh's acceptance of the position with the Trans-Continental Transport, Inc., definitely disposed of rumors to the effect that he was making arrangements for a trip in June by air to Europe with intermediate stops in Labrador, Greenland and Iceland.

Even though Lindbergh would give no countenance to such rumors they were several times reiterated, even at a time when it was known that Lindbergh was in consultation with business men with a view of entering upon a business career. Lindbergh has several times expressed extreme annoyance over the publication of his alleged "plans" which subsequent events proved to be untrue and "hopped up" conjecture.

Public interest in the new air-rail corporation, formation of which was announced a week ago, is reported to be great. The route to be followed is: By train from New York to Columbus, Ohio; by plane from Columbus to Wichita, Kan.; thence over the Atchison by train to some station yet to be selected in New Mexico and then by plane again to Los Angeles.

The route was selected upon the recommendation of Lindbergh who was in conference with officials of the railroad and airplane companies before the new corporation was organized. Passengers are to

PILOT INJURED IN AIRPLANE CRASH

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 23.—G. M. Grey, pilot for the Beckner Flying Service of this city, today was recovering from injuries sustained here last night in an airplane crash in which John Emmett Wisp, 30, an employee of the Curtiss Airplane Company, was killed.

The fliers' Jenny plane was demolished when it crashed in a field near here. Wisp sustained two broken legs, a broken arm and a fractured skull. He died being taken to a hospital.

PRESIDENT SIGNS JONES-WHITE BILL

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge today signed the Jones-White merchant marine bill. This measure authorizes extensive replacements of government vessels, increases the construction loan fund from $125,000,000 to $250,000,000, reaffirms the general shipping policy of the 1921 act, liberalizes ocean mail contracts, and makes all merchant marine personnel eligible for the naval reserve and two month's reserve pay without actual service.

ITALIA STARTS FOR NORTH POLE REGION ON SECOND FLIGHT

May Land Members Of Crew On Polar Wastes

KING'S BAY, Spitzbergen, May 23.—Bound for the North Pole on its second venture over the uncharted wastes of the frozen Arctic, the dirigible Italia left its base here at 4:40 a. m. today.

Although weather conditions were not perfect, General Umberto Nobile, commander of the ship, felt that they were sufficiently favorable to allow him to start.

As the huge silver-shoed craft nosed its way upward through a murky haze, the crew of the supply ship Citra Di Milano, and natives who had come miles to watch the dirigible's departure, cheered enthusiastically and wished the intrepid air-voyagers goodspeed.

Before starting, General Nobile announced that he first planned to cruise to the top of Greenland. From there, he said, he would head for the North Pole.

Just before Nobile climbed into the control car of the Italia, the padre of the Citra Di Milano blessed the cross which will be dropped from the ship when it reaches the pole.

Nobile and his crew of fifteen smiled confidently and waved to their well-wishers as the ship sailed slowly into space. It soon gathered speed and altitude and after some fifteen or twenty minutes it disappeared in the clouds.

House leaders have announced there would be little trouble in reaching an agreement, indicating that most of the senate rates will be accepted.

Congressional leaders, meanwhile, were waiting for President Coolidge to act on a large number of bills, topped by the McNary-Haugen measure. All reports from the White House have predicted a veto for the farm bill and there seemed little likelihood that any effort would be made in congress to pass it over his veto. Farm bloc leaders appeared to favor carrying their fight into the national conventions in June rather than to run the risk of having congress reject the bill in a test of power with the president.

FAMOUS FLYER MADE OFFICIAL OF CROSS COUNTRY SERVICE

Planes Linked With Trains In Huge Corporation

NEW YORK, May 23.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh gave new and practical impetus to the development of aviation in the United States by accepting a position as technical head of the newly-formed Trans-Continental Air Transport, Inc., a $5,000,000 corporation which will establish a coast-to-coast train and plane service, cutting the traveling time from New York to Los Angeles to forty-eight hours, or exactly in half.

Lindbergh's title is "chairman of the technical committee." His salary has not been announced, although it is said to be extremely liberal. It is believed, too, that he has been given a generous block of stock. He will devote all his time to the new job.

All matters concerning choice of equipment, field, general service, flying routes and safety appliances will come under the authority of the committee of which Lindbergh is the head. The president of the company is C. M. Keys, who is also president of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Corporation.

The railroads identified with "Lindbergh's" new company are the Pennsylvania and the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe. The two airplane companies involved are the Curtiss Company and the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

Airplane stocks in Wall Street soared this morning on the news that Lindbergh had entered the business field. Curtiss Aero jumped ten points in early trading on the exchange of 130 and Wright Aero also made a ten point advance to 178.

Lindbergh's acceptance of the position with the Trans-Continental Transport, Inc., definitely disposed of rumors to the effect that he was making arrangements for a trip in June by air to Europe with intermediate stops in Labrador, Greenland and Iceland.

Even though Lindbergh would give no countenance to such rumors they were several times reiterated, even at a time when it was known that Lindbergh was in consultation with business men with a view of entering upon a business career. Lindbergh has several times expressed extreme annoyance over the publication of his alleged "plans" which subsequent events proved to be untrue and "hopped up" conjecture.

Public interest in the new air-rail corporation, formation of which was announced a week ago, is reported to be great. The route to be followed is: By train from New York to Columbus, Ohio; by plane from Columbus to Wichita, Kan.; thence over the Atchafalaya by train to some station in New Mexico and then by plane again to Los Angeles.

The route was selected upon the recommendation of Lindbergh who was in conference with officials of the railroad and airplane companies before the new corporation was organized. Passengers are to

PRESIDENT SIGNS JONES-WHITE BILL

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge today signed the Jones-White merchant marine bill. This measure authorizes extensive replacements of government vessels, increases the construction loan fund from $125,000,000 to $250,000,000, reaffirms the general shipping policy of the 1921 act, liberalizes ocean mail contracts, and makes all merchant marine personnel eligible for the naval reserve and two month's reserve pay without actual service.

WHY TRADE IN XENIA?

Here's Prize Winning Answer In Merchants' Contest

Xenia's advancement and success as a city depends upon the loyalty and civic pride of its people.

The morals of the city are kept to the highest standard by the lights of Christianity, that shine forth through the churches. Safety and security are procured for a city by the highest type of government, whose officers measure forth equity and justice to all.

The prosperity of a city depends upon the whole community at large. The people of all ranks of life, contribute their mite to the ultimate success of home institutions.

By patronizing our own merchants, those buying supplies will make possible larger stores, better assortment of goods, larger profit for the merchant, increased buying power, greater success, increased finance for both merchants, and our banks, thereby saving the customer the expense or transportation cost to other cities. Thus, they can buy at a lower price in their own home town where rents are cheaper, and where all overhead expenses are much less than in larger cities.

Money spent in the community means money for our banks, which means capital for every enterprise in the community. It brings to the working man in particular (and the community is largely made up of such) more labor, more prosperity, higher wages, better living conditions, and a higher standard of city citizenship, in general.

Therefore, for prosperity for the community at large, support your own business institutions, trade at your own home store, buy at a cheaper price, save money, benefit yourself, and at the same time cause the whole community to prosper.

This will prove your loyalty and your civic pride and give you in return the reward of a thriving and rapidly growing city, with its beautiful stores wherein can be bought merchandise of the latest fashion and of the best quality at the lowest possible cost.

“And a little child shall lead them.”

Often pearls of wisdom are heard from the mouths of the younger generations.

Members of the Xenia Retail Merchants Association believed this when they announced a cash-prize contest for the school children writing the best advertisements on the subject “Why Trade in Xenia?”

The answers the association received proved they were not mis-led in their belief in the youngsters. The first prize winning copy appears today.

Xenia must depend upon its future generations if it is to survive. If these coming generations are instilled with the belief in Xenia as expressed in this advertisement, Xenia's future is assured.

LEGION AND AUXILIARY HOST AT DINNER PARTY

Patriotic colors were employed with effect in the appointments of the supper entertained by the American Legion and Auxiliary, in the basement of the Court House, Tuesday evening.

Covers were laid for between seventy and eighty guests, members of both organizations. Red, white and blue candles altered with flowers in the same colors to form the centerpiece of the tables.

The entire evening was given over to social gaily and after dinner, dancing was enjoyed, with music furnished by an electric Orthophonic, furnished by Adair's. Announcement was made of the poppy sale Saturday and for Memorial Day.

FIRST U. P. SOCIETIES TO CELEBRATE MAY 25

The Woman's Missionary Society, First U. P. Church, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Young Woman's Missionary Society Friday evening, May 25. Members of the Young Woman's Missionary Society and of Agnes Ballantyne Circle will be guests of the senior society at dinner in the church at 6 p. m. Following, a program will be given in the audience room at 7:30, when Miss Davida Finney, the church's missionary to Egypt will give an address.

Members of the three societies are cordially invited. Those unable to attend the dinner are welcome at the 7:30 service.

Both formerly lived in Greene County, near Jamestown. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will go to house-keeping soon near Madisonville, where Mr. Johnson is building a new home.

Annual community supper scheduled to be given by the Orient Hill P.T. A. for the school children Friday evening, has been postponed. Instead the organization is planning a treat for the children Friday afternoon.

In Paris!

Now, American girls are showing the French how to wear clothes! Doris Padmore, lovely New York City girl whose home is at 70 Barrow Street, is in Paris, displaying gowns for Jean Patou, the famous French designer.

The girls over there have another trick to learn from her. She says: "Everyone marvels at the lustre and softness of my hair. Many of the girls ask me if I use Danderine. I always delight in telling the easy way we New York girls take care of our hair. All we do is just put a few dashes of Danderine on our brushes each time we dress our hair. The first few times I used it all my dandruff disappeared and every time it gives new sparkle and life to my hair. It keeps it in place, too, just like I arrange it and makes my scalp always feel grand. I don't have to shampoo nearly so often, either, now that I'm using Danderine."

Every application of Danderine refreshes and tones your scalp. It removes the oily film and makes every strand gleam with new lustre. It dissolves dandruff and keeps it out of your hair. It isn't sticky or oily. All drug stores have the big 35c bottles.

Contract for the completion of Irvin Hall, new science building at Miami University, Oxford, O., was awarded Tuesday to McCurran Brothers, general contracting firm, this city.

Bids were opened and the successful bidder announced at a meeting of the building committee of the university, held in the office of Dr. J. M. Withrow, board member, at Cincinnati, O. Five bids were considered.

The building is to be completed at an estimated cost of $40,000. Construction work on the new building was begun three years ago but was never finished. It is a three-story building.

The frame work was erected and the floors were laid, and it will be the assignment of the local firm to partition off the rooms and complete the interior construction work.

The university has been using only the north wing of the structure. Work will be started by McCurran Brothers about June 1, and the hall is expected to be completed by September 1.

FAMOUS OLD BLIMP BEING DESTROYED

LONDON, May 23.—The R-33, the sole survivor of England's old airship fleet, is being broken up.

The R-33, a sister ship of the famous R-34, made a famous double crossing of the north Atlantic in 1919. She had a capacity of nearly 2,000,000 cubic feet.

Many adventures befell the R-33. In April, 1925, she was torn from her mooring mast in a gale of wind and carried out over the North Sea with part of her crew aboard.

Carried like a feather before the terrific wind, the airship survived and when the gale died down returned to her hangar under her own power after a day and a half of wandering over the sea.

Since April, 1925, the R-33 has been used as an experimental craft in connection with Britain's new fleet of giant dirigibles.

Alleged permanent injuries sustained in an accident at Loveland, O., February 13, 1928, while in the employ of the defendant company as a trackman, are made the basis of a demand for $2,900 damages in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by John Benson, Spring Valley, against The Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

Benson says he was picking up steel rails and loading them on a flat car, that he and other employees were loading the rails by hooking a clamp on the center of the rails, which were already marked as to the center. Then the rails would be lifted by hooks and a steel cable attached to a boom-pole on a work car, it is explained.

Benson, his foreman, C. A. Clark, and a man named Copsey had started to load a rail with Benson at the west end, Copsey at the east end and the foreman attaching a clamp to the center, the petition avers.

The rail at Copsey's end, plaintiff continues, was frozen to the ground and the boom-pole to which the cable was fastened to the rail was not straight over the clamp, which was attached to the middle of the rail.

It is charged that when the rail was lifted from the ground, the west end came loose but that a great amount of force was necessary to pull the east end loose from the frozen ground.

When the frozen end did give way, the rail swung around suddenly with such force as to knock Benson to the ground, according to the petition, which charges that a portion of the rail fell on Benson's right leg, breaking both the large and small bones at the ankle.

Benson complains that he has been unable to work since the accident and does not know when he will be able to resume work, if ever. He claims that his right leg is not straight and that he is unable to put his weight on it. He believes his injuries are permanent.

The railroad is charged with negligence. Benson claims the company should have had the boom-pole to which the cable was attached, straight over the clamp, which was attached to the middle of the rail, and that because this was not done, the rail swung around, striking him, when it was released from the frozen ground.

Attorney Frank L. Johnson represents the plaintiff.

BISHOP J. H. JONES ASSIGNED TO FIRST EPISCOPAL DISTRICT

Bishop J. H. Jones, Wilberforce, chairman of the board of trustees of Wilberforce University, and for eight years bishop of the third episcopal district of the A. M. E. Church, has been assigned to the first district at the general conference in Chicago.

All bishops of the church must be transferred this year under a resolution passed at the conference during its early sessions. Because of his interest in the university and his work in raising finances for that institution, friends of Bishop Jones attempted to force an amendment through the conference exempting him from transfer but the effort failed.

In the first district Bishop Jones will have charge of New York state, the Philadelphia Conference, New Jersey and New England states. He will be succeeded in the third district by Bishop J. H. Heard, Philadelphia, who has been in charge of the first district for eight years. Although exchanging districts Bishop Jones will continue to live in Wilberforce and Bishop Heard will continue to make his home in Philadelphia.

The change, however, will mean that Bishop Jones will relinquish his position as chairman of Wilberforce trustees, and will be succeeded in this position by Bishop Heard. The third district comprises Ohio, the Pittsburgh Conference and West Virginia. Since it is a part of the first educational district which includes the first, third and fourth episcopal districts, Bishop Jones will still be in a position to retain his interest in the university and in its finances, and may be elected vice chairman of the trustee board at the annual election in June.

STUDENTS STRIKE TO FAVOR TEACHERS

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 23.—Ranks of the 150 striking pupils who walked out of the Glenwood High School, New Boston, at noon yesterday, as a protest against the action of the board of education in not re-employing three of their favorite teachers, were weakened today by the desertion of fifteen of the striking students who returned to their classrooms this morning, according to an official of the school.

Board members refused to comment on the situation. Pupils alleged "politics" was responsible for the board's decision.

Principal B. R. Higley, Miss Martha Pollitt, English and mathematics teacher, and John E. Quick, auto mechanic and radio teacher, are the three members of the faculty whose re-employment the students demand. The 150 boys and girls, practically the whole student body, paraded in New Boston yesterday, carrying banners inscribed "We Want Higley."

Contract for the completion of Irvin Hall, new science building at Miami University, Oxford, O., was awarded Tuesday to McCurran Brothers, general contracting firm, this city.

Bids were opened and the successful bidder announced at a meeting of the building committee of the university, held in the office of Dr. J. M. Withrow, board member, at Cincinnati, O. Five bids were considered.

The building is to be completed at an estimated cost of $40,000. Construction work on the new building was begun three years ago but was never finished. It is a three-story building.

The frame work was erected and the floors were laid, and it will be the assignment of the local firm to partition off the rooms and complete the interior construction work.

The university has been using only the north wing of the structure. Work will be started by McCurran Brothers about June 1, and the hall is expected to be completed by September 1.

FAMOUS OLD BLIMP BEING DESTROYED

LONDON, May 23.—The R-33, the sole survivor of England's old airship fleet, is being broken up. The R-33, a sister ship of the famous R-34, made a famous double crossing of the north Atlantic in 1919. She had gas capacity of nearly 2,000,000 cubic feet.

Many adventures befell the R-33. In April, 1925, she was torn from her mooring mast in a gale of wind and carried out over the North Sea with part of her crew aboard. Carried like a feather before the terrific wind, the airship survived and when the gale died down returned to her hangar under her own power after a day and a half of wandering over the sea. Since April, 1925, the R-33 has been used as an experimental craft in connection with Britain's new fleet of giant dirigibles.

FORMER EMPLOYE IS PLAINTIFF IN SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD

Alleged permanent injuries sustained in an accident at Loveland, O., February 13, 1928 while in the employ of the defendant company as a trackman, are made the basis of a demand for $23,000 damages in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by John Benson, Spring Valley, against The Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

Benson says he was picking up steel rails and leading them on a flat car, that he and other employees were leading the rails by hooking a clamp on the center of the rails, which were already marked as to the center. Then the rails would be lifted by hooks and a steel cable attached to a boom pole on a work car, it is explained.

Benson, his foreman, C. A. Clark, and a man named Copey had started to load a rail with Benson at the west end, Copey at the east end and the foreman attaching a clamp to the center, the petition avers.

The rail at Copey's end, plaintiff continues, was frozen to the ground and the boom pole to which the cable was fastened to the rail was not straight over the clamp, which was attached to the middle of the rail.

It is charged that when the rail was lifted from the ground, the west end came loose but that a great amount of force was necessary to pull the east end loose from the frozen ground.

When the frozen end did give way, the rail swung around suddenly with such force as to knock Benson to the ground, according to the petition, which charges that a portion of the rail fell on Benson's right leg, breaking both the large and small bones at the ankle.

Benson complains that he has been unable to work since the accident and does not know when he will be able to resume work, if ever. He claims that his right leg is not straight and that he is unable to put his weight on it. He believes his injuries are permanent.

The railroad is charged with negligence. Benson claims the company should have had the boom pole to which the cable was attached, straight over the clamp, which was attached to the middle of the rail, and that because this was not done, the rail swung around striking him, when it was released from the frozen ground.

Attorney Frank L. Johnson represents the plaintiff.

BISHOP J. H. JONES ASSIGNED TO FIRST EPISCOPAL DISTRICT

Bishop J. H. Jones, Wilberforce, chairman of the board of trustees of Wilberforce University, and for eight years bishop of the third episcopal district of the A. M. E. Church, has been assigned to the first district at the general conference in Chicago.

All bishops of the church must be transferred this year under a resolution passed at the conference during its early sessions. Because of his interest in the university and his work in raising finances for that institution, friends of Bishop Jones attempted to force an amendment through the conference exempting him from transfer but the effort failed.

In the first district Bishop Jones will have charge of New York state, the Philadelphia Conference, New Jersey and New England states. He will be succeeded in the third district by Bishop J. H. Heard, Philadelphia, who has been in charge of the first district for eight years. Although exchanging districts in Wilberforce and Bishop Heard will continue to make his home in Philadelphia.

The change, however, will mean that Bishop Jones will relinquish his position as chairman of Wilberforce trustees, and will be succeeded in this position by Bishop H. H. Heard, Philadelphia. The third district comprises Ohio, the Pittsburgh Conference and West Virginia. Since it is a part of the first educational district which includes the first, third and fourth episcopal districts, Bishop Jones will still be in a position to retain his interest in the university and in its finances, and may be elected vice chairman of the trustee board at the annual election in June.

STUDENTS STRIKE TO FAVOR TEACHERS

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 23.—Ranks of the 150 striking pupils who walked out of the Glenwood High School, New Boston, at noon yesterday, as a protest against the action of the board of education in not re-employing three of their favorite teachers, were weakened today by the desertion of fifteen of the striking students who returned to their classrooms this morning, according to an official of the school.

Board members refused to comment on the situation. Pupils alleged "politics" was responsible for the board's decision. Principal B. R. Hickey, Miss Martha Politt, English and mathematics teacher, and John E. Quick, auto mechanic and radio teacher, are the three members of the faculty whose re-employment the students demand. The 150 boys and girls, practically the whole student body, paraded in New Boston yesterday, carrying banners inscribed "We Want Hickey."

HIGHWAY HARRIERS STILL POUND HEELS

LIBERTY, N. Y., May 23.—Noah and his ark cruised around for forty days, the scriptures tell us, but C. C. "Cross Country" Pyle's highway harriers added aquatic achievements to their previous feats as they pushed eastward today thirty-seven miles to Middletown. Gusto Umek, Italy's champion pedestrian, led the bunton derby-ists over the hills and dales from Deposit to the eighth control here, covering the 59.1 miles in 9:57:45. Umek, who stands fifth in the cross country grind, has an elapsed time of 617:03:33 for the 3289.4 miles from Los Angeles. John Salo, Passaic, New Jersey's flying Finn continued to cut into the lead which Andy Payne, Claremore, Oklahoma race leader has over him by finishing second for the day in 10:57:35. Payne dropped 34:10 to Salo during the day when he was fourth into the control in 21:45:45. His elapsed time 548:23:36, still gives him a margin of 15:45:35 over the flying Finn.

HEALTH HINTS For Parents

The wise mother gives little heed to "diets" for her growing girl or boy, and worries not at all about their bowels. A little fig syrup gives all the help, and has none of the harm that's found in habit-forming laxatives.

Have you a girl or boy whose food doesn't seem to nourish as it should? Let them eat the same things, and just treat them to a daily spoonful of this rich, fruity syrup. watch them gain weight, see how their cheeks fill out and how appetite and assimilation improve! And a few drops will do remarkable things for an ailing infant. California Fig Syrup is a purely vegetable product, so parents need have no hesitancy in giving it to infants.

California Fig Syrup is not expensive; all dealers charge but sixty cents for a generous bottle. Just make certain that it is the California product; say "California" in asking for it.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

BATTLE OF BRAINS

A new kind of college athletic contest took place recently, when two teams of 10 students each met in competition between Harvard and Yale, to see which would pass the best examination in English composition and literature.

Heretofore, it has seemed as if the physical athletes got most of the scholastic glory. Now if many colleges and schools would go in for these brain competitions, success in scholarship would be more highly esteemed.

There seems a certain disproportion when a successful football player is acclaimed over the entire length of the country, while the fine scholar may be hardly known in his own college.

NEW SOURCES OF POWER

What will happen when our coal and oil supplies are exhausted? The underground supplies of coal and oil, of course, are limited. The oil shortage will become acute in the lifetime of many mature persons of today, it is said. The coal shortage will not embarrass our children, but it may well be that our children's grandchildren will never see coal, except in museums, scientists declare.

Philip Gibbs, in his book, "The Day After Tomorrow," is much disturbed about the approaching coal shortage. He cites authorities to prove that the coal mines of the British Isles will be completely exhausted in 75 years. That means that within 50 years the coal industry in the British Isles will cease to be an important pillar of the industrial life.

American coal will last longer. But within a hundred years Americans will realize, too, that the world's power cannot much longer be derived from coal.

Then what? Gibbs mentions only two possible sources of energy to replace coal. Control of tidal action in some manner that will make the energy useful, and the releasing of the energy that holds the atom together.

Atomic energy is the object of much intensive investigation just now. Scientists believe it may be possible, by releasing this powerful force, to accomplish anything that may be done with the aid of harnessed power. But they are afraid of the atom. They believe that this stored energy of the atom is so great that it might easily be used to destroy the earth, especially in time of war.

This may be a scientific superstition. Scientists have been mistaken before, you know.

Tidal energy undoubtedly will be harnessed to a certain extent, as soon as the power is badly needed. It is not probable that the harnessing will be a cheap undertaking, however, and other sources of power will be needed.

Heat from the interior of the earth, reached by means of deep holes, may turn most of the turbines of the future. This should be comparatively cheap power.

But there need be no great worry just yet about the passing of coal.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

SUPERSTITION

It is said that through the ages so much of superstition has been attached to religion and the observances of religion. Nothing should be more natural to man than his religion—his sense of communication with a Creator. It should be always in the sunlight.

Seneca, wise old man of a past age, said, "Religion worships God while superstition profanes that worship."

COUNSEL

Three things few people will take advice on. They are marriage, money, and medicine. Yet men and women would do well to seek much counsel on all three. All are prone to marry as they choose, waste or invest their money as they choose, and follow their own whims about trying to get well when they are sick.

Nobody should be too much bound by advice, but he at least should give himself the benefit of hearing counsel, turning it over in his mind and taking it for what it is worth.

BOOKS AGAIN

An able and studious lawyer, speaking books, writes this letter: "First I would take the Bible, and give me the King James Version, the one that says: 'And now abideth Faith, Hope and Charity, but the greatest of these is Charity.' I don't want the one that says: 'And now abideth Faith, Hope and Love.' Some people would change anything, even the classics of the Bible. We learned to love the phrase 'In my Father's house are many mansions.' The new way of saying it is 'There are many rooms.' It is only a step in the Greek from father to grandfather, and the first thing we know some modernist will be insisting that passage should read 'In my grandfather's apartment are many places to sleep.'"

Next I would take Shakespeare.

"Inasmuch as you limit us to ten books and ten books only, I suppose my next three will have to be Warren's 'The Supreme Court in the United States History.' If I could count that three-volume work as one book, I would also like to take Beveridge's 'Life of John Marshall.' But that would add four more volumes, and I am limited to only ten in all.

"This makes me six. Next I would take Emerson's Essays.

"Next I would want Bacon's Essays.

"Next I would want to take Pope with me.

"And to balance off them all, we would throw in a volume of Tennyson."

The Diary of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK, May 23.—"The Big Noise," a current photoplay by Ben Hecht, with Chester Conklin in a Jannings role, is as bold and pointed a satire on politics, and on New York municipal politics in particular, as ever had been concocted in celluloid. It is a cinematic "Revelry" that bares in burlesque some bitter truths about New York's all important subways are made political footballs. Its characters caricature actual figures, some of them national notables, so closely that they should be recognizable even to dulleits. The role of the mayor of New York is played by a young man who looks enough like Jimmy Walker to be his brother, and to mention another parallel, is a minor part, that of the blonde friend of a newspaper publisher is a double of Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

Echoes of the New York subway fare fight have reached the furthest stretches of the country because of its political significance.

As is customary, the concerns operating the subways are being belabored by the politicians as robbers of widows and orphans and poor working girls.

The issue of the thing is that the city itself owns the subways, and leases them to the operating companies under an agreement which protects the companies against loss. The companies, compelled to limit the fare to five cents regardless of the distance the passenger is hauled, which is in a large percentage of cases as much as 20 miles, draw on the city treasury for their deficits.

Thus while the New Yorker rides for five cents, he really pays more in the end, because of higher taxes, higher rents, etc.

Subways are built by the city with money obtained from bond issues. With the five-cent fare in effect, the city doesn't even get back the interest on its subway bonds. Continued operation of the subway at a loss imperils the city government's financial stability, but the five-cent fare continues to be an issue to which the politicians cling.

Mayor Jimmy Walker is trying to stay in office with it, and Ex-Mayor John P. Hyland is endeavoring to get back in office with it. Walker says Hyland betrayed the people by not watching the subway companies close enough to make sure that fare wasn't raised, and Hyland counters with the charge that Walker favors higher fares and owns stock in the subway operating companies.

Tradition has it that there is honor among thieves. There also is a modicum of honor among gamblers. In Times Square gambling is a big business, and there are crooked devices, visiting professionals are not invited to play. If the recognized gambler who drops into one of the places socially is invited to play, he knows the game is on the level. Otherwise he just lets him on.

Signs of Honesty

Many persons have an idea that dishonesty is more or less hereditary, that some men are born thieves. The surety companies pay no heed to any such theory as this. They do not even ask in their list of questions if an applicant's father or mother ever was convicted of a crime.

Seneca, wise old man of a past age, said, "Religion worships God while superstition profanes that worship."

Next I would take Shakespeare.

"Inasmuch as you limit us to ten books and ten books only, I suppose my next three will have to be Warren's 'The Supreme Court in the United States History.' How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

FOR YOUR BEAUTY'S SAKE—SMILE!

The greatest determining factor of mouth beauty is your smile. A very wise and very kind man once said, "that when the New Yorker smiled for the first time—it broke into a million pieces—and that was the beginning of fairies."

I can think of nothing more charming and nothing more logical for the sweetness, the gentleness, the sheer beauty of a smile could not help but be the basis of all lovely things.

To be very scientific about the importance of those mouth muscles of yours let me tell you that science claims, with solid proofs to substantiate the statement, that the expression of your eyes is actually determined by your mouth.

The eyes themselves, so they say, are no more than reflectors—"the expression," as we call it, being caused by the muscles of the eyelids and eye area, which in turn depends on the mouth muscles for their cue. In fact, so important are these unneeded mouth muscles of yours, that they set in motion, muscles as far removed as the skull above, and the collar bone below!

We, judging only from external factors, know that the mouth is the key to all facial expression.

We know from our study of beauty lore that the good looking woman guards her mouth against the aging droop which disfigures not her mouth alone, but her whole face as well. We know from countless authorities and from wide observation that there is no face lifter so potent as a smile, and still we don't smile—not half enough!

Do you remember the song that carried many a long grim line of lonely, weary, heartick soldiers triumphantly to victory? It invigorated them, restored their hope and bolstered their courage. Do you remember? "Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag, and smile! Smile! Smile! They could do it—why can't you?"

To be truly lovely, the spirit within must be beautiful, too, but even apart from that, let me tell you about the exterior effect smiles have on your face. A smile tones tired muscles. It catches them when they are drooping downward, and turns them about again, neutralizing bad effects, encouraging and cultivating good ones. It stimulates those same muscles, forces them into action, and through this alone, preserves the beauty and youth of healthy, animated tissues.

Of course, if your muscles have lost their vitality, if the tissues are undernourished, wrinkled, permanently drooping, you need scientific corrective treatment. You need massage movements to lightly coax the muscles upward again and you need a rich, nourishing anti-wrinkle cream to be put on in gently, night and morning, and left on over night if the condition is advanced. And more than ever for your beauty's sake, you need to smile!

Whether you feel like it or not! If you are tired, your face shows it. Pull those sagging muscles Right About Face, with a smile!

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Have You a Food Budget?

Have you a food budget? You should have.

The average family spends too much money on breads and cereals and sweets, and not enough on milk and cheese and fruits and vegetables so the diet lacks vitamins and mineral elements, especially calcium and iron.

Sherman, a nutrition expert, connected with Columbia University, has made, and is making a very extensive study of nutrition, and he is a recognized authority on the subject. Here is the food budget he advises:

One-fifth, more or less, for vegetables and fruits.

One-fifth, or more, for milk and cheese.

One-fifth, or less, for meats, fish and eggs.

One-fifth, or more, for breads and cereals.

One-fifth, or less, for fats, sugars, other groceries and food adjuncts.

If you will spend one-fifth or more on vegetables and fruits, and one-fifth or more for milk and cheese, you will have a much better diet, for you will have more vitamins and mineral elements, and you will find the health of your family will be improved.

We have an article on Balance Diet, which you may have if you are interested. The column rules for obtaining this and other articles, except the reducing and gaining pamphlet, are to enclose two cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Reducing and gaining pamphlet requires ten cents in coin in addition to the self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Varicose Veins

The veins in E's hands and arms are becoming enlarged, with little bubbly places. Can anything be done to restore them to normal size?

You describe varicose veins, E. Varicose veins may be due to several causes. In general, anything retarding the flow of the blood will cause them. Most often they appear in the legs, but they can appear elsewhere, as they do in your case.

In this condition, there is a weakening of the valves and of the walls of the veins. The veins, like the arteries, are composed of three coats. The middle coat is mostly muscle tissue.

Are your muscles flabby? If so, your heart and blood vessel muscle tissues are also. Perhaps systematic exercise begun in small amounts and increased gradually will tone up your entire musculature. I imagine you are under par. I would have a complete examination, if I were you, to find the reason.

We have an article on varicose veins which you may have by complying with directions, also an article on exercise which may be helpful.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, May 23.—China's hope lies in the boycott.

To a great extent, so does America's hope. That is to say, America's hope of escaping a lot of trouble, as a result of Japan's attempt to establish herself permanently on the Asiatic mainland, greatly beyond her present sphere of influence there depends largely upon the success of the Chinese attempt to resist the Islanders' encroachments, by the boycott method.

Fortunately, the Chinese are the best boycotters in the world's history; so the prospect isn't entirely discouraging.

As a straight military proposition, Japan can thump China all she pleases. Nobody disputes it. The Chinese can't put up much of a fight against any scrappy nation of outsiders.

The Japanese, established, as they are, in the important northern Chinese province of Shantung, will stay there, so far as any Chinese attempt to oust them by force of arms is concerned.

If anybody ejects them, by military means, it will have to be some accidental power, or possibly will be no European power, or combination of them. The European powers would rather divide China with Japan, and among themselves, than try to intervene for China's benefit.

Intervention will be undertaken by the United States or nobody.

It's a large order.

To be sure it's of vast importance to us. "It can't be expected," as Dr. S. K. Hornbeck, of the state department's far eastern division, puts it, "that the American government will look with favor upon measures tending to break up China, or establish an atmosphere of influence there."

From a state department official, this is strong language.

It signified that the Washington government realizes the Chinese "open door"—a "sacred elephant" of ours, to mix metaphors—is threatened. It's a job at one of our most beloved policies and our still more dearly beloved pocketbook.

Nevertheless—What are we going to do about it?

We can object 'till we're black in the face and that's all the good it will do us. True, we have some pretty potent economic weapons we can employ, but it all slimmers down to a question of brute force in the well-known last analysis.

Brute force, resorted to by the United States, as far away as the other side of the Pacific, is unpleasant to think about, but they can't, practically "unthinkable," to use a hackneyed expression.

Naturally it will be much nicer if China can take care of herself.

Luckily, unarmament as they are, the Chinese have shown a remarkable capacity for doing this by the boycott route.

The Japanese can lick 'em, but they can't make the individual Chinaman buy their products.

They can threaten dire things, if he refuses to do it, but they can't pick him out of 400 million and actually do anything to him. How can they?—if he balks at paying a few coppers for a yard of Japanese calico or some such thing? It's simply impossible.

It has been tried over and over again.

The Chinese aren't supposed to know what patriotism is—to be entirely lacking in any national consciousness. And so they are—in a military sense. But commercially—gosh!—they're the most cohesive people in existence.

They've invoked the boycott already, in opposition to Japan's latest occupation of their territory. Elsewhere on earth we might be justified in thinking it didn't amount to much. China's different.

The state department's sitting back and waiting a little. It isn't as inactive a policy as it may look like—applied to China.

BALANCED

We hear much talk these days of balanced diets. If we eat good food in the right proportions we go far to insure health to our bodies. How many of us are as particular about our mental food? We read so much that cannot be classed as good literature and we ruin our mental digestion thereby when a balanced diet of good mental food of all kinds—light as well as heavy—would bring us mental poise and a saner outlook upon life.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am a girl in my teens and am asking you a question, but before I begin, do not call me a 'lover.' I do not love any boy. I don't think I ever shall want to go out with a boy. This is my question: Is it wrong to read 'true story' magazines? I like to read them, but I want you to tell me if it is wrong. I will do whatever you say."

"BROWN EYES."

It isn't wrong, dear, but I think it unwise to read much of that kind of literature. It is like eating a lot of cheap candy. That would soon put your digestion into bad shape, wouldn't it? And the same thing will happen to your brains. Choose good literature of all kinds—stories, poetry and so-called educational books—they won't hurt you a bit and are not hard to read and pretty soon you will not care for trashy and sensational things.

"Maybe not," was the reply, "but ever since I signed that I'm reading everything!"

"Huh!" remarked the clerk with the paper, "I'll bet you didn't read that carefully."

"I don't like the idea of promiscuous kissing. I think it loses all meaning as a token of affection and, cheaper, and more harmful, depends on the petters and the spirit in which they are indulged. If you cannot win his love, after going about with him for some time, I can only hint that perhaps you show your affection for him too freely. Try keeping him guessing."

HUDSON-ESSEX VICTORY MAKES AUSPICIOUS DEBUT IN LEAGUE

The Hudson-Essex softball team, making its first start of the season, looked good in defeating the Lang Chevrolet Co. by the decisive score of 34 to 12 in an American League game Tuesday at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

Winners confined their scoring to six innings, bunching hits for nine runs in the second, four in the third, nine in the fourth, three in the fifth and seventh, and six in the sixth.

Langs held a six-run advantage as the last of the second inning opened but could not hold it.

It was the first defeat suffered by Langs and gives the team an even break in two games played. Bruce Leveck pitched for the winners with Rakoff catching. Lang was the starting pitcher for his team but toward the latter part of the contest, the losers changed hurlers every round.

The game was probably the longest of the season.

Fuller played a brilliant game at third base for Hudson-Essex and his batting also featured.

PRICES FIXED FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

AMSTERDAM, May 23. — Entrance fees to the Olympic games will range from thirty cents to $2.40. The games will be officially opened on July 28 although contests are already in progress. Hockey began last week and will continue three more days.

Standing room on weekdays for track and field events in the Olympic stadium will cost thirty cents, on Sundays, forty cents. Seats in one of the covered tribunals can be had for $1.60 each on weekdays; on Sundays, $2.40. Prices are slightly lower if the spectator buys a subscription ticket for the entire series of track and field sports.

Seats in the boxing pavilion range in price from $1 to $2.40 each, depending upon whether they are morning, afternoon or evening.

Sportistory

Wednesday, May 23 — Zack Wheat, recently a member of the Philadelphia Athletics outfield, was born at Hamilton, Mo., 1888.

FRANCES JACK WILL BE VALEDICTORIAN OF GRADUATES HERE

FRANCES JACK

Ranking highest in scholarship of any member of her class during her four years in high school, Frances Jack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jack, 201 Roger St., is announced as the valedictorian of the graduating class of Central High School.

Miss Jack attained a grade of E or E- in all of her sixteen subjects, considered an exceptional record.

Besides this honor, she also took a prominent role in the recent senior class play, portraying the title role of "Peg" on the first night.

Dorothy Hamlin, who was elected to membership on the Premier Roll, honorary senior society, and will be presented with the Premier Rose at commencement exercises, became the salutatorian of her class by ranking second in scholarship.

School officials announced the names of the ten honor students in the senior class Wednesday. The eight others receiving the highest grades in the class over the four-year period are: Louise Hutchison, Helen Deacon, Mabel Wheeler, Lois Street, Betty Montague, Evelyn Nichols, Kenneth Fristoe and Ruta Bradley.

The grade averages for these ten students were unusually high, according to Principal Louis Hammerle. Almost all of the averages were close to E, which is the highest mark awarded in a subject and is unusually difficult to attain.

The group of senior girls this year is unusual, school officials say.

ALLEGED RUM RING PAIR UNDER ARREST

DAYTON, O., May 23. —Albert Vogel and Jack Tyner, alleged members of a Detroit-Dayton rum-running ring, were free on $5,000 bond here today following their arrest yesterday on secret indictments returned by the federal grand jury that met here this month.

Four bell-hops of a Dayton hotel were arrested yesterday on charges of selling liquor. All were about 20 years of age. Police refused to disclose the name of the hotel.

COMMITTEE APPROVES PLANS FOR SHAWNEE PARK BUILDING

An auditorium, which it is planned to build in Shawnee Park for the 1928 Greene County Home-Coming, will have an estimated cost of $7,500 and a seating capacity of 1,250.

Tentative plans for the building, as prepared free of charge by Harry Sparks, Xenia, were adopted by the Home-Coming Executive Committee Tuesday night.

Sparks was made a member of the executive committee and has been authorized to draw up complete plans and specifications.

Bids will then be received on a competitive basis and the contract awarded with the expectation of beginning work on the auditorium in time to have it completed for the celebration the latter part of August.

The site decided upon for the auditorium is directly north of the intersection of Corwin Ave. and South Park Drive, approximately 200 feet from the road and 150 feet from the lagoon. The ground at that point is extremely dry and solid during all seasons of the year.

It is planned to erect the structure in the shape of a cross. The building will have a substantial roof supported by square pillars. It would be constructed in such a manner that improvements can be made in the future.

As a protection against the weather, canvas sidewalls may be obtained but the sides will be built so that they may be bricked in, providing a permanent inclosure should the occasion demand. Because of the shape of the building, it is estimated the cost of inclosing the auditorium with brick walls would not exceed $1,500.

The floor and in fact, most of the construction, will be of cement. Openings will be left in the floor to provide for the possible installation of a small heating plant in the future. Gravel walks leading to the auditorium will give convenient access.

The auditorium will also include shelter house features and a platform stage.

Xenia has long needed a community building such as it is planned to build. In the opinion of Home-Coming officials:

It will also solve the problem of a place for holding Home-Coming entertainments, speeches, meetings, reunions and other programs that require a building of large seating capacity.

Later the auditorium will be available for any number of uses to which a public building is put.

Shipments—Tuesday—Calves 107, hogs 1,192.

It is pointed out that the same amount of money, but to other uses in connection with the affair in August, would not have the same lasting benefits. For example, it is disclosed that $5,000 could easily be spent on fireworks, renting a large tent for Home-Coming meetings, and in asking local merchants to spend large sums for building decorations.

Instead of asking merchants to go to great expense in decorating their business house fronts, the committee has decided to leave this matter to the individual discretion of merchants. The idea of a fireworks display has also been given up. The auditorium will also make a tent unnecessary.

HUDSON-ESSEX VICTORY MAKES AUSPICIOUS DEBUT IN LEAGUE

The Hudson-Essex softball team, making its first start of the season, looked good in defeating the Lang Chevrolet Co. by the decisive score of 34 to 12 in an American League game Tuesday at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

Winners confined their scoring to six innings, bunching hits for nine runs in the second, four in the third, nine in the fourth, three in the fifth and seventh, and six in the sixth.

Lungs held a six-run advantage as the last of the second inning opened but could not hold it.

It was the first defeat suffered by Lungs and gives the team an even break in two games played.

Bruce Leveck pitched for the winners with Rakoff catching. Lang was the starting pitcher for his team but toward the latter part of the contest, the losers changed hurlers every round.

The game was probably the longest of the season.

Fuller played a brilliant game at third base for Hudson-Essex and his batting also featured.

The Firemen meet the Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity nine in a National League game Wednesday night.

Lang Chevrolet Co. lineup: Harner, 1b; Naylor, ss; Robinson, 3b; Gould, 2b; Lang, p; McGee, cf; L. McCoy, c; D. McCoy, rf; Anderson, lf; Allen, cfp.

Hudson-Essex lineup: McCurran, cf; Hicks, lf; T. Smith, 1b; R. Smith, 2b; Fuller, 3b; Leveck, p; Herr, ss; Wones, rf; Rakoff, c; Creswell, cf; Spitzman, lf.

Score by innings:

Lungs	13	2	0	1	3	0	12
Hud-Essex	0	9	1	9	3	6	34

FRANCES JACK WILL BE VALEDICTORIAN OF GRADUATES HERE

FRANCES JACK

Ranking highest in scholarship of any member of her class during her four years in high school, Frances Jack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jack, 201 Roger St., is announced as the valedictorian of the graduating class of Central High School.

Miss Jack attained a grade of E or E- in all of her sixteen subjects, considered an exceptional record. Besides this honor, she also took a prominent role in the recent senior class play, portraying the title role of "Peg," on the first night.

Dorothy Hamlin, who was elected to membership on the Premier Roll, honorary senior society, and will be presented with the Premier Rose at commencement exercises, became the salutatorian of her class by ranking second in scholarship.

School officials announced the names of the ten honor students in the senior class Wednesday. The eight others receiving the highest grades in the class over the four-year period are: Louise Hutchison, Helen Deacon, Mabel Wheeler, Lois Street, Betty Montague, Evelyn Nichols, Kenneth Frisbie and Ruth Bradley.

The grade averages for these ten students were unusually high, according to Principal Louis Hamerle. Almost all of the averages were close to E, which is the highest mark awarded in a subject and is unusually difficult to attain.

The group of senior girls this year is unusual, school officials say.

ALLEGED RUM RING PAIR UNDER ARREST

DAYTON, O., May 23.—Albert Vogel and Jack Tynes, alleged members of a Detroit-Dayton rum-running ring, were free on $5,000 bond here today following their arrest yesterday on secret indictments returned by the federal grand jury that met here this morning.

Both bell-hops of a Dayton hotel were arrested yesterday on charges of selling liquor. All were about 20 years of age. Police refused to disclose the name of the hotel.

COMMITTEE APPROVES PLANS FOR SHAWNEE PARK BUILDING

An auditorium, which is planned to build in Shawnee Park for the 1928 Greene County Home-Coming, will have an estimated cost of $7,500 and a seating capacity of 1,250.

Tentative plans for the building, as prepared free of charge by Harry Sparks, Xenia, were adopted by the Home-Coming Executive Committee Tuesday night.

Sparks was made a member of the executive committee and has been authorized to draw up complete plans and specifications. Bids will then be received on a competitive basis and the contract awarded with the expectation of beginning work on the auditorium in time to have it completed for the celebration the latter part of August.

The site decided upon for the auditorium is directly north of the intersection of Corwin Ave. and South Park Drive, approximately 200 feet from the road and 150 feet from the lagoon. The ground at that point is extremely dry and solid during all seasons of the year.

It is planned to erect the structure in the shape of a cross. The building will have a substantial roof supported by square pillars. It will be constructed in such a manner that improvements can be made in the future.

As a protection against the weather, canvas sidewalls may be obtained but the sides will be built so that they may be bricked in, providing a permanent inclosure should the occasion demand. In the shape of the building, it is estimated the cost of including the auditorium with brick walls would not exceed $1,500.

The floor and in fact, most of the construction, will be of cement. Openings will be left in the floor to provide for the possible installation of a small heating plant in the future. Gravel walks leading to the auditorium will give convenient access.

The auditorium will also include shelter house features and a platform stage.

Xenia has long needed a community building such as it is planned to build. In the opinion of Home-Coming officials, it will also solve the problem of a place for holding Home-Coming entertainments, speeches, meetings, reunions and other programs that require a building of large seating capacity.

Later the auditorium will be available for any number of uses to which a public building is put.

DON'T BLAME FOOD FOR INDIGESTION

When pain and discomfort follow a meal, don't blame the food and decide to go on a diet. Nine times out of ten indigestion, acidity, flatulence and heartburn are caused by excess stomach acid and food fermentation.

Even the worst attacks, however, are quickly stopped by taking a little "Pape's Diapiesin," which instantly neutralizes the excess acidity, stops fermentation, and soothes and heals the acid-inflamed stomach lining. Make a special point of getting a 50-cent package of "Pape's Diapiesin" from your druggist today, and so follow the example of millions all over the world who use "Pape's Diapiesin" to end indigestion and allied stomach troubles.

With "Pape's Diapiesin" handy you can eat and enjoy whatever you fancy without fear of pain or discomfort to follow. —Adv.

Your tongue is the best barometer of your physical condition. Look at it every morning before breakfast. If it is coated with white, yellow or brown coloring, and does not have a clean red appearance you are constipated and not well.

Heed Its Warning
Constipation causes more ailments than all other diseases, and is the result of not having a daily bowel movement. Sick headache, indigestion, biliousness and sallow complexion follow. Ask your druggist for a 25c red paper package of CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS "Safe Laxative". Take a dose to-night and continue one pill after each meal. Don't stop—until your tongue is clean. MR. WILLIAM SCOTT CHALMERS was born June 4th, 1852. He was born and raised at the old homestead on the New Jasper Pike. He had lived there all his life except the last year of his life, when he moved into Xenia on S. Monroe St. There were several brothers in the family. His mother taught him home work. After his mother died he kept house for his father until his little sisters grew up to take the duties of the home. Then after his youngest brother died in 1882 he was left to attend the farm until his health was so poor. He was hindered much by an impediment in his speech before his death he had influenza. He suffered with bronchial and heart trouble and pneumonia. He was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church. Rev. J. P. Little conducted the funeral services with very comforting words.

SWEETHEARTS

AUTHOR of "MY SON'S SWEETHEARTS," "CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE," ETC.

IDA H. MCGILGIBSON

"Emily Andrews, I'll never forgive you as long as you live."

READ THIS FIRST:

Lynda Fenton, a sympathetically impulsive girl, is private secretary to Ralph Armitage, who has an insane wife, Lynda's father, a drunkard, tells her that her mother deserted them, and that all women have their price. Sometimes she reflects and believes he's right.

Emily Andrews, who cherishes a secret fondness for David Kenmore, Lynda's companion from childhood, plots against Lynda. David tells Lynda that he loves her, but she decides she doesn't want to be in love with any man. Then Lynda's father, too, deserts her, and Claire Stanhope comes to live with her.

Ralph Armitage is enthralled with Lynda's innocent charms and, although he cannot marry her, he tells her that he loves her, Emily Andrews contrives a scene which causes a break between Lynda and David, who then resigns his job with Armitage.

Lynda innocently leads Ralph to believe she loves him. But it's not love she's thinking of—it's price. Ralph's father tries to break the spell, but unsuccessfully. Lynda means to do what's right, but now she views the world with what she believes is modern eyes, and frankly tells Ralph's father that, although she's fond of him, she's only his money that would cause her to give herself to him. She's undecided. And then she thinks of David.

Jamestown News

The Strong Post, G. A. R. of Jamestown has invited the Rev. Leslie D. Vesey, pastor of the M. E. Church, to deliver the annual memorial address Sunday morning, May 27, at 10 o'clock. Mr. Vesey will address the assembly at the cemetery at 2:30 p. m. Arrangements are being made to place the flowers on the soldiers' monument in the cemetery in memory of the fallen heroes, thus eliminating the long time custom of strewing the flowers on the marked graves.

At the regular meeting of the Jamestown board of education last week a partial list of teachers were employed for the school year 1928-29. High school teachers re-elected were: Miss Lella Fudge, Miss Josephine Randall; Miss Margaret Gilerest, seventh and eighth grades; Katherine Shickley, fifth and sixth grades; Mildred Toland, third and fourth grades. Miss Toland's position will be filled by a substitute this year, as she will matriculate in some university. Lillian McCoy, first and second grades; G. A. Williams, Adams St., as principal. Other positions will be filled later.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barnes left last week by motor for a ten days trip through Michigan. They will stop at Detroit and visit Miss Lella McGuire, as well as several other points in the state.

Mrs. A. G. Carpenter has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Penfield, of Dayton.

The Misses Lula and Anna Rowand, who have spent several months at Springfield have returned home for the summer.

Miss Louise Carpenter spent the week end in Xenia with her mother and family.

The women of the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, will hold a provision market on Saturday morning the twenty-sixth at the office of the justice of the peace, in the opera house. Doors open at 9:30.

The annual eighth grade commencement of Jamestown schools and of Silvercreek Twp. held on Thursday evening at the opera house, was considered one of the best. A crowded house enjoyed the varied exercises. Miss Lindsey directed the music in her capable manner, which always pleases. The members of the classes acquitted themselves creditably. The class address by J. F. Gordon was instructive and to the point. He strongly emphasized the home training by the parents and their hearty co-operation with the teachers. Supt. J. W. Gowdy, presented the certificates to the thirty graduates.

The eighth grade teachers desired to extend the thanks to John Ross, the florist for his decoration of potted plants without charge to any one, which was much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Braden Smith had for their Sunday guests, Mrs. Mattie Carr and family of Columbus, and Miss Ruth Smith, who is a student of the O. S. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walthall and little daughter, Virginia Ann, are motoring through to Montana and will locate at Grass Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Walthall spent part of last summer in the northwest and were much pleased with that section of the country.

The Rev. W. C. Evans visited with Miss Margaret Gilerest on Monday and went from there for a brief stay with Mr. Edgar Fisher and family, near Wilmington. He goes from there to Cincinnati to attend the Baptist state convention which convenes at the Ninth St. Baptist Church, of which the Rev. J. F. Herget is pastor. The Rev. Mr. Evans is on the program for an address telling of his work at Burma, India, as a missionary.

Mrs. Mary Milburn who has spent the past seven months with relatives in London, O., was a guest over the week end of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Talbot.

Friday evening the twenty-fifth will mark the annual banquet of the Jamestown High School alumni and will be held in the Grange hall in the Sharp block with appropriate exercises including a splendid program of music. The class of '23 will be received into the association with the usual formalities. Miss Catherine Dean is president of the class. The officers of the alumni now serving are:

president, Robert Moorman; vice president, Mrs. Willis Glass; secretary, Maud Holes; treasurer, Dorothy Fanning. The women of the Grange will serve the dinner for the banquet. Mr. F. D. Redmon, who has been the agent of the local office of the B. and O. railroad for a year has resigned the position and accepted one as freight agent of the B. and O. at Findlay and with his family moved to that city the first of this week. A. J. Christopher, a former agent for years, will serve as a substitute until the tenth of June when an appointment will be made by the company.

Mrs. J. Q. McClain is recovering from a prolonged attack of influenza.

EMILY SHOWS CLAWS
"I'll be so glad to have David back again," Lynda said aloud, as she sprayed herself with perfume as a finishing touch to her toilet. The doorbell rang and, hastily putting the perfumeizer, as she persisted in calling it, down on the table under the small mirror, she went out in the hall and met Emily Andrews.

"Hello, old dear," said Emily, lightly. "You left the office so abruptly this afternoon that I did not have time to trade my news for yours, and now I know yours."

"Know mine, Emily? What are you talking about? I haven't any news to offer anyone, not even such an insatiable news gatherer as you."

"Yes, you have. The whole office is ringing with it. You have been offered a hundred thousand dollars by Pa Armitage to go to Europe, and the deal was almost made when Armitage got onto it and insisted that you should go to Europe, but instead of Pa Armitage, he himself, should furnish the funds, throwing in his company for interest."

"That sounds very much like a story from 'True Tales from the Underworld,' my dear, and I am sorry I'm obliged to call it a lie from beginning to end. In the first place, I am not going to Europe or anywhere else. I am going to stay right in the office of Armitage & Son." Until she had said that, Lynda did not know that subconsciously she had made her decision.

"Will Pa stand for it, sweet child?"

"Stand for what?"

"You and Armitage making love to each other in the office. If he does, I'm going to take off my five dollar felt chapeau to you. You certainly have the bulge on one and all of us. How do you do it, Lynda?"

ANNUAL CENTRAL HIGH ALUMNI RECEPTION IS BEING ARRANGED

Tentative plans are being made for the sixty-ninth annual banquet of the Central High School Alumni Association, it is announced by Dr. Marshall Best, president of the organization.

A meeting of officers and members of the executive committee is expected to be held sometime this week.

The banquet last year was held on June 15 and it is planned to hold the affair about the same date this year.

A program of entertainment will be arranged, which may include a play and music in the auditorium following the banquet in the cafeteria. Dancing will also be enjoyed in the gymnasium as in past years.

THIS XENIA LADY OFFERING PRAISE FOR NEW KONJOLA

"It is Wonderful," She Says: Completely Restored Her Health in Every Way

It was predicted less than two weeks ago that the people of Xenia would very quickly find out about the merits of this celebrated new medicine, Konjola, which the Konjola Man is introducing and explaining in person to large crowds each day at the Gallaher Drug Store, Xenia.

Report after report is being received from men and women of this city, describing the remarkable benefits derived from the use of this surprising new compound.

For instance, just a few days ago Mrs. Ed Shaffer, 633 West Second Street, this city, made the following statement:

"Konjola is wonderful," said Mrs. Shaffer. "It has restored my health in every way, and I feel that it is only right to endorse such a medicine to the public."

"My trouble started several years ago and had been steadily getting worse. I was troubled with catarrh in my head and the mucus caused by that ailment were terrible. My head was always filled with mucus and a ringing, buzzing noise. Even at night I was kept awake by these symptoms and I became very nervous. The mucus dripped into my mouth and throat and poisoned my entire system. Finally my stomach became affected and I would have dreadful indigestion pains after each meal. I had no appetite and what I did manage to eat never nourished me right. My sleep was further disturbed at night by rising due to weak kidneys, which became worse as the days passed. Medicine of all kinds had no more effect on me than so much water and I actually despaired of ever being well again."

"That was exactly my condition before I found Konjola, but since I have taken this medicine, everything is different. In a few days I had more energy and seemed to have new feelings of health in general. My appetite is wonderful and I can eat whatever I want without suffering afterward because this medicine has completely ended the catarrhal trouble and dried up that poisonous mucus. My head is free of those noises and I enjoy all-night and refreshing sleep once more. There is not a sign of either stomach trouble or catarrh and for this reason in gold to me. My kidneys gradually became stronger and the rising stopped so you see, Konjola gave me new health in every way. Nobody ever sees me tired and worn out like I was before. I ended my health troubles and I am feeling like an entirely different person. I gladly endorse Konjola because I know what this medicine will do."

The Konjola Man is at the Gallaher Drug Store, Xenia, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

be carried in big, specially constructed planes equipped with the best safety devices. The service is to be both ways, from east to west, and vice versa. The cost of the coast-to-coast trip will be slightly more than the cost of a railroad journey with drawing room accommodations.

"Lindy," through his identification with the company, will be steadily increasing his earning powers. It is estimated that he already has earned $1,000,000 from various enterprises, including newspaper articles and the book "We." It was a few days more than a year ago when he made his epochal non-stop flight from New York to Paris, and since that time he has given his time unstintingly to enterprises from which he drew no revenue, such as acting as America's "good will" ambassador to various countries.

The technical committee which Lindbergh will head will be composed of practical aviation men. Some of its members remain to be chosen and its personnel has not yet been announced. This committee will lay out and pass upon routes that eventually will come into use time, officials of the company say, a network of air-rail routes all over the country will be in operation, these feeder lines connecting with the main New York-Los Angeles route.

It has been decided that three-motored planes, capable of carrying twelve to fourteen passengers and their hand baggage, will be used over the transcontinental route. The selected trimotored Fokker monoplanes, the Ford trimotored all metal passenger air transport and the Boeing trimotored passenger transport are among the possibilities.

Lindbergh was eagerly sought this morning for details of his new work, and his plans. He was in seclusion, however.

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear up the condition with some laxative made with Cascara, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't know the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowels' muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on. So, the very next time you feel

The Landau Sedan Body by Fisher

With special sport equipment, no smarter car than this

Smart as a racing craft. Long and low... with rakish, youthful lines. But with special sport equipment... it's even smarter. The peer of any car in its class.

Six wire wheels... their colors contrasting with body shades. Spares carried forward in special fender wells. A trunk rack behind... suggesting week-end journeys. All that you see and admire on America's finest custom-built cars.

There's real style, if you ever saw it. Swank... snap... personality. Reflecting the speed and drive of its engine... its change of pace and its wonderful handling ease.

Add to all this the charm of bodies by Fisher. The deep-cushioned comfort and luxury that Fisher bodies provide. Then you'll find the All-American Six leagues ahead of any rival. And you'll marvel again at its truly remarkable price.

2-Door Sedan, $1045; Landau Coupe, $1045; Sport Roadster, $1075; Phaeton, $1075; 4-Door Sedan, $1145; Cabriolet, $1155; Landau Sedan, $1265 (wire wheels, spare tires, and trunk rack extra). But if you don't know the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on. So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy cascara. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from cascara is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy cascara. Adv.

With special sport equipment, no smarter car than this

Smart as a racing craft. Long and low... with rakish, youthful lines. But with special sport equipment... it's even smarter. The peer of any car in its class.

Six wire wheels... their colors contrasting with body shades. Spares carried forward in special fender wells. A trunk rack behind... suggesting week-end journeys. All that you see and admire on America's finest custom-built cars.

KLAN ANNOUNCES SPECIAL SERVICES

Beginning next Sunday and continuing through June, the Ku Klux Klan of Greene County, will hold patriotic, religious and educational services in the tabernacle, E. Third St.

These services will be on the next five Sunday afternoons, at 2:30 p. m. The first one, May 27, will be addressed by the Rev. A. J. Furetenberger. His subject will be "America in the Making."

Following the address, the men's and women's organizations will hold a short memorial service for the deceased Klansmen and Klanswomen of the past year. Different features will make up the program. The public is invited.
